PART I: GENERAL INFORMATION

- DESCRIPTION OF TOWN

- SHORT HISTORY AND LOCATION

Tartu is the second largest city of Estonia. Tartu is located 185 kilometres to south from the capital Tallinn. Tartu is known also as the centre of Southern Estonia. The Emajõgi River, which connects the two largest lakes (Võrtsjärv and Peipsi) of Estonia, flows for the length of 10 kilometres within the city limits and adds colour to the city.

As Tartu has been under control of various rulers throughout its history, there are various names for the city in different languages. Most of them derive from the earliest attested form, the Estonian Tarbatu. The first historic mention of Tartu dates back to 1030, so the city has a lot of history to explore. From the 13th to the 16th century, the town was a prosperous member of the Hanseatic League. Then held in turn by Poles (1582–1600, 1603–25) and Swedes (1600–03, 1625–1704), it was finally annexed to Russia by Peter I the Great in 1704. The city was devastated by fire in 1775 and was largely rebuilt in classical style.

After the II World War, Tartu was declared a "closed town" to foreigners, as an air base for bombers was constructed on Raadi Airfield, in the northeast outskirts of the city. The asphalt runway there now houses a large used cars market, and is used for car racing.

Citizens and visitors of Tartu will enjoy access to almost 40 museums and galleries and many concert halls. Tartu has many parks, walking and biking paths and is graced with the Emajõgi River, which flows through the city centre.

Tartu is known as capital city of education and student's city. The population of around 100,000 people and a fifth of its citizens are students of higher education. The big number of young citizens is a peculiarity of Tartu - almost half of the citizens are under 35 years of age. You will notice that when walking in the streets of Tartu. Large student population means that it has a comparatively thriving nightlife, with many bars, restaurants, and nightclubs. There is always something fun going on in Tartu: As befits a true university town, student life is bustling in Tartu.

Perhaps you will encounter the "Tartu Ghost" – a mysterious being that makes you spend too much time and come back to Tartu over and over again. Where does the Ghost live? Nobody knows, but you can feel its presence almost everywhere- in the city district Supilinn, ("Soup Town"), on Toome Hill, in the cosy little cafeterias and in the University. Local people also say that time flows slower in Tartu that's why Tartu's slogan is called City of Good Thoughts.

- MAIN LOCAL/CULTURAL EVENTS

Tartu is a city of festivals, song festivals and museums. Folk art days, exhibitions, concerts and youth festivals which also attract people from outside Estonia are organised in Tartu. The development of both professional and folk culture is promoted here. The museums of Tartu actively introduce our rich cultural and national heritage. Theatre performances, concerts, festivals, conferences happen all year round. Tartu is a hot bed of creative and scientific culture: with high quality promenade concerts, the Emajõgi River Summer theatre, the Hanseatic Days and various music events – you'll never get bored.

Annually, in the summer, Tartu hosts the Hansa Days Festival (Estonian: Hansapäevad) to celebrate the Hanseatic heritage under the motto "History lives" when the old town bustles with activity from handicraft markets and historic workshops to a jousting tournament.

Tartu Love Film Festival tARTuFF 13.08 – 18.08.2018. For a period of six days in mid-August, the Tartu Town Hall Square is turned into a cinema with 1000 chairs added to the 500 seats available in the summer cafés. The films that are screened during the festival aim to portray different facets of love. During its years of existence, tARTuFF has never been a festival of overly sweet love movies but rather the one creating the feeling of spikes and sharp edges. To further this reputation, a side programme on tolerance has been screened in the Tartu Conference and Cultural Centre Athena. The programme usually covers various topics such as race, cultural diversity, religion and environment. It takes a look at the current topics of the present-day world mainly through documentaries but also by presenting a parallel selection of feature films. All the pieces are introduced by the film makers and experts who also deliver open lectures and participate in different discussions prior to the screenings.

- HOW TO REACH TOWN (LINKS FROM THE NEAREST AIRPORT, TRAIN OR COACH STATIONS)

Tartu is situated in southern Estonia. If you arrive to Estonia, you should come via Tallinn Lennart Meri Airport. The distance between Tallinn, Estonia's capital, and Tartu is approximately 185 kilometers, and it takes about 2,5 hours by Lux express coach or by car.

Arrival to Tallinn airport – It is possible to travel from Tallinn to Tartu by train or by bus. Buses leave from Tallinn Bus Terminal almost every 30 minutes from 5.00 in the morning (5.00 a.m.) until 23.00 at night (11 p.m.). There are Lux express buses which also take passengers from the Tallinn Airport (stop "Tallinna lennujaam" in Estonian) on their way to Tartu.

You can find most Estonian bus lines on the web site <http://www.tpilet.ee/en/>? If you wish to get on the bus at the airport, it is advisable to buy the ticket in advance (online, printing out the ticket yourself). Bus ticket price from Tallinn to Tartu is about 12 EUR.

Trains to Tartu (<http://elron.ee/en/>) from Tallinn train station leave 9 times a day, and it takes about 2 hours to get to Tartu. The train station is situated just outside the Tallinn Old Town and sea port, a taxi or tram can take you there ("Balti jaam" stop). Trains are very comfortable and safe. Train ticket price from Tallinn to Tartu is about 12 EUR. Near Tartu, there is also small Tartu airport (flights only from/to Helsinki via Flybe). Arrival to Tartu Airport – Airport Shuttle bus leaves from Tartu Airport to the city in about 15 minutes after the plane has arrived, but also waits for anyone who needs the ride to the city. For a fee of 5 EUR the shuttle will drop you off at any place in Tartu city and the ticket can be bought either in cash or with a debit/credit card from the driver.

- TRANSPORT IN TOWN (BRIEF INFORMATION ON THE MAIN MEANS OF TRANSPORT AVAILABLE)

In Tartu, public transport means city buses. You can buy a single ticket from bus driver for 1,50 EUR. More information you can find on the webpage http://www.tartu.ee/?lang_id=2 choose "Info" and then "Transportation". A lot of taxi companies operate in Tartu. The price of a kilometre is 0,51-0,90 EUR. The starting price is 2,60 EUR. Some taxi companies have discounts for students. Most taxi drivers speak some English and all taxis are equipped with meters.

• LANGUAGE COMPONENT

- SHORT DESCRIPTION OF LANGUAGE COMPONENT: OBJECTIVES AND TEACHING METHODS

This course is designed for students who have no knowledge of Estonian language. The aim of the course is to provide a foundation for learning the basics of Estonian through grounding in the structure of sentences and current usage with emphasis on their educational and daily communications. The course will equally focus on listening (to help them understand authentic conversations in Estonian), speaking (to encourage students to carry on simple conversations), reading (to enable students to read and understand small texts, announcements, advertisements and public signs and notices), and writing (to help students to write simple sentences and paragraphs on issues of everyday life, to give a brief description of an event of a person). The intensive Estonian course will also be supported by authentic materials, multi-media facilities, audio-visual aids. Students will work on different tasks which enable them to use Estonian language outside the classroom (supermarkets, stores, markets, dormitory, canteens...etc). Students will be able to use many practical expressions such as "how to order food in a restaurant", "how to ask or give directions", "how to do shopping in a supermarket or markets", and much more. By the end of the course, students will be able to understand and use everyday expressions and very basic phrases in order to introduce themselves and ask and answer questions about personal details. Students will be able to understand sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance (very basic personal and family information, shopping, local geography, asking and giving directions, food, transportation, employment ...etc). They will also be able to describe in simple terms aspects of their background, immediate environment, and matters in areas of immediate basic needs.
